Poster Stellars 2025 is the 5th Intercontinental Poster Competition organized by Poster Stellars LLC, based in New Jersey, USA. Known globally for celebrating creativity and innovation in poster design, this renowned competition attracts talented designers, illustrators, photographers, and artists from around the world. Participants can submit original artworks across three compelling categories: Published Posters—which cover diverse themes such as political statements, cultural expressions, ecological issues, impactful advertising, and typographic excellence; Unpublished Posters—dedicated to exploring the evocative theme "B L A C K – The Infinite Paradox"; and Animated Posters—open for captivating motion designs on any topic, reflecting the latest trends in digital and interactive visual storytelling.

The competition encourages artistic expression and technical prowess, offering participants the opportunity to showcase their talents on an international stage. Each artist may submit up to three unique posters per entry, providing flexibility and greater chances for recognition. Poster Stellars 2025 aims to foster global dialogue through visual communication, pushing creative boundaries and inspiring conversations about pressing social, cultural, and environmental issues. With an expert panel of internationally acclaimed judges from the design and visual arts community, the competition ensures credibility, fairness, and prestige, elevating the reputation of participants who achieve recognition.

Beyond the prestige of winning, Poster Stellars 2025 provides artists with invaluable exposure and professional opportunities. Winners receive global visibility through exhibitions, publications, and digital media, connecting their works to an international audience of designers, educators, art enthusiasts, and industry professionals. Additionally, winning posters are preserved in a specially designed stainless steel Time Capsule to be opened in 2037, symbolizing a lasting legacy for future generations. This innovative approach underscores the competition’s commitment to promoting poster art as a powerful medium for cultural documentation and artistic heritage.

Entry fee: Professional: $30 USD; Student: $15 USD.

ELIGIBILITY

Open to all designers, illustrators, photographers, and artists aged 18 or older worldwide.

PRIZE

Winners will receive awards including trophies and certificates. The top honor, the Grand Stellar, is awarded for Best of Show. Gold, Silver, and Bronze Stellars are awarded in each category. Additionally, Continental Stellars recognize outstanding entries from each continent. All winning posters will be preserved in a stainless steel Time Capsule to be opened in 2037.
