In celebration of NASA's 60th Anniversary, Adobe Stock released a high-impact collection of free 3D models optimized for Dimension CC for the creative community to use in honor of NASA and its legacy.

The free content collection includes hyperreal models originally created by NASA and its contributors that were optimized by the Adobe Stock 3D team, and a collection of 12 models showing the planets within our solar system that were created by Adobe in collaboration with Adobe Stock contributor Francesco Milanese.
