SOURCE: GRAPHIC COMPETITIONS

Now in its third year, the Lilla Rogers Studio Global Talent Search has become one of the most prestigious prizes in the art industry.

With thousands of entries each year from all over the world, some of the top names in the industry on the judging panel and some extraordinary prizes to catapult one lucky artist's career to stratospheric heights, it's bigger and better than ever before.

Only one entry per person is permitted. The competition is made up of three stages of submission. The number of images permitted per round will be stated clearly in the creative brief provided to participants at each stage. Only those selected to proceed to subsequent stages will be sent the later creative briefs.

You will retain all rights to your own work.

Entry fee is 25 GBP (approx. 39 USD).

ELIGIBILITY

Open to any artist over 18 not currently represented, based in any country around the world.

PRIZE

The Grand Prize winner wins two years' international representation from Lilla Rogers Studio, plus a host of covetable product licenses, and a series of prizes to support the development of their professional career.
