

Inside 2015 International Design Competition

Category: Multiple Disciplines

Deadline: April 7, 2015

Website: graphiccompetitions.com

Inside 2015 invites students and young professionals to submit a collection of their inside work comprised of up to three digital images. The competition is open to all design disciplines including architects, interior designers, furniture designers, digital fabricators, graphic designers, lighting designers, product designers or any other creative field that creates for the inside.

There are two categories:

â€¢ Future Voices (students only) - Future Voices aims to discover upcoming design voices within academia. To be eligible, students must currently be under-graduate or post-graduate students at universities or tertiary institutions. (Tertiary institutions include: junior colleges, colleges of technology, and other relevant vocational schools)

â€¢ Emerging Talent (young professionals or enthusiasts) - Emerging Talent is oriented to all young professionals and upcoming firms. To be eligible, young professionals must be 40 years of age or under if submitting as an individual. If the work was completed by a firm or practice, then the firm must be 15 years old or younger.

Inside 2015 was assembled by designers, professors and students as a means to publically promote the research, exploration and investigation currently happening in academia and amongst today's emerging talent. The competition is supported by the AIAS, IIDA, ADC, AIGA and is hosted by The Morpholio Project.

Each submission should include three images, and each participant may submit a maximum of four separate entries. All submissions are digital. Entrants maintain full copyright to their work.

There is no entry fee.

Eligibility

Open worldwide to all creative fields. Entrants must be at least 18 years of age.

A minimum of one "EyeTime Jury" winner and one "Guest Jury" winner will be selected in each category.

All winning entrants will receive the title of Competition Winner(s) and will be announced in a public Press Release. Additional Honor Awards, Special Recognitions and Honorable mentions will be included in all press releases.
