The LensCulture Emerging Talent Awards 2024 is an international photography competition designed to discover and elevate early-career photographers who are shaping the future of the medium. Since its inception, the awards have sought out innovative, authentic voices from across the globe, encouraging photographers to explore new narratives, experiment with visual storytelling, and reimagine traditional genres. With no restrictions on age, genre, or geographic location, this competition is open to anyone with a creative vision who is looking to gain recognition and grow their career on a global stage.

LensCulture emphasizes that the Emerging Talent Awards offer more than just a title; it is a platform for exposure. Winners receive global visibility through exhibitions at prestigious venues like Photo London, participation in international photo festivals, and features across LensCulture's wide-reaching digital channels. The competition is a springboard for emerging photographers to reach a professional audience that includes curators, editors, gallery owners, and other photography insiders who can play a pivotal role in their careers. All entries are reviewed by a jury of experts who actively contribute to the global photography community.

In addition to these career-boosting opportunities, LensCulture provides further incentives with a range of prizes, including $12,000 in cash awards, international press exposure, and permanent placement in LensCulture's online gallery. This contest offers a rare opportunity for undiscovered talents to showcase their work to a worldwide audience, enabling them to take their first steps toward becoming established figures in the art of photography.

Entry fee: Regular mini-series entries cost $35, while series entries are $50. Discounts apply for early entries and students.

Eligibility

Open to all photographers worldwide, with no age or genre restrictions.

Prize

The competition offers a total of $12,000 in cash prizes distributed among the 8 Jurors' Picks. Winners will also be part of an exhibition at Photo London 2025, one of the largest international photography fairs. Additional benefits include visibility among industry insiders, international press coverage, and features in photo festivals worldwide. Winning works will also be permanently displayed in the LensCulture online gallery, giving winners long-term global exposure.
