LG's second UltraWide Festival is geared specifically toward fierce designers, photographers, and creators full of creative passion. Anyone can easily enter this event by submitting an original 21:9 ratio image, and the festival will be judged by three creators who have created a world all their own in their respective fields and in the eyes of the public. The 1st round will proceed with a social media link to each individualâ€™s 21:9 artwork with the campaign hashtags (#LGUltraWideFestival, #DreamCanvas2016, #38UC99), and 15 finalists who pass the 1st round will be awarded the very latest LG UltraWide 38â€ IPS USB-C monitor 38UC99. The final round mission is to make a Wallpaper Creation, which would fill up the huge 3840 x 1600 screen of a 38UC99 monitor. During the judging process for the final winner, you can download all 21:9 wallpaper artworks created by the 15 finalists from the campaign website.

There is no entry fee.
