SOURCE: GRAPHIC COMPETITIONS

Posterheroes is an international contest about social communication that calls for posters about social and environmental issues. Every year, Posterheroes invites students, professional designers, and everyone who is into graphic design to create a poster about topics of social interest.

This year's theme is "Beautifully Diverse".

In a world where inequalities are constantly increasing, strengthening cooperation and educating solidarity and empathy to recognize the value and dignity of each individual, regardless of ability or characteristics, is more important than ever. Through collective action, promoting a narrative of disability that is neither positive nor negative but a simple expression of the diversity that characterises humanity is therefore necessary.

It is time to transcend the normal and embrace the beauty of diversity.

This year, Posterheroes is excited to introduce a new feature: the option to submit AI-generated images (out of competition) as a means of exploring innovative tools and techniques.

The winning posters are selected by a selection panel comprising international experts in the field of illustration, animation, arts, visual communication.

There is no entry fee.
