PRINT Awards 2020 is a worldwide competition with entries accepted from all countries. Formerly known as the Regional Design Awards, the PRINT Awards has a fresh focus on global inclusion, new exclusive categories spotlighting design activism and the latest creative technology, and it continues to highlight talented student work.

This year, the PRINT Awards also launches a completely new category: PRINT Citizen Design Award. Designers have always been at the forefront of critical thinking around issues of social justice, community intervention, sustainability and human rights across issues and borders. This award, inspired by the dedication of designers to address vital causes this year, was added to recognize this work and celebrate design activism. To ensure that everyone can enter, this category has no entry fee nor any limit to the number of entries that can be submitted.

Winning entries in the PRINT Awards will be selected based on originality, innovation, execution and permanence, while the Citizen Design category will be based on originality, clarity, execution and impact.

The deadline for submissions is September 20, with a late deadline of October 16, 2020.

ELIGIBILITY

Open to anyone worldwide. All entries must have been created, produced, or launched in publicly between September 1st, 2019 and October 1st, 2020.

PRIZE

All winners will be featured on PRINTMag.com and PRINT's social media channels and newsletter, which boast a combined reach of more than 1 million. Select winners will receive a feature story on PRINTMag.com. All First-Place, Best of Show, Editor's Choice, Adobe Dimension Award & PRINT Citizen Award winners will receive a PRINT Awards trophy. All Second- and Third-Place winners will receive a custom certificate designed and signed by Debbie Millman, printed on Neenah Paper. All winners will receive a custom digital seal to share with their winning project.
