The Red Dot Award Communication Design 2017 is geared toward all creative talents, from agencies to design offices and freelancers to companies. Whether Corporate Design, Advertising or Online – the search is for the most innovative campaigns from the world of communication design.

There are a total of 18 categories available for participants to prove their talent and be assessed in an international context.

In addition to the individual awards, each year the Red Dot Agency of the Year and the Red Dot Client of the Year are selected for special achievements. The Award also provides a platform for up-and-coming designers, with the best piece of work by an apprentice, a student or young graduate winning the Red Dot Junior Prize along with prize money of 10,000 EUR (approx. 10,867 USD).

Participants may enter as many works as they wish. One work may consist of up to eight separate objects/pieces. One and the same work can be entered up to four different categories. Depending on the category, projects can be submitted in a physical, non-digital form, in digital form or, for cross-media communications, in both of these.

The jury comprises renowned experts and its composition changes every year. In addition to experienced jury members, new experts are constantly added to guarantee an independent and fresh perspective on current developments within the communication design scene.
