SOURCE: GRAPHIC COMPETITIONS

In 2000 the UN and its partners compiled eight goals, which aim to help secure worldwide social and economic development as well as to further human rights and equality in the participating countries:

• Eradicate Extreme Poverty and Hunger • Archieve Universal Primary Education • Promote Gender Equality • Reduce Infant Mortality • Improve Maternal Health • Combate HIV/AIDS and Other Diseases • Ensure Environmental Sustainability • Developing a Global Partnership for Development

The 189 signatories have until 2015 to implement these goals. Therefore, the deadline for implementing the goals has almost expired. It is now time to take stock and assess how far the Millennium Goals have been achieved.

This competition asks for critical and satirical observations which assess the results of the Millennium Goals with humour and that engage with people's reality in 2013/2014 regarding poverty, gender equality, access to education, ecological sustainability etc. whilst capturing the conflicts and discrepancies in both a smaller and wider context.

Each participant may submit a maximum of three artworks. The artworks must be originals. Captions should be either in German, Spanish or the English language. Maximum format of the artworks: A4 (210 x 297 mm).

There is no entry fee.

The call for entries is directed towards all cartoonists worldwide.
