Organised by CBRE, the Urban Photographer Of The Year Competition gives unique insight into the urban built environment on a global scale. Urban has many meanings, depending on your point of view. CBRE challenges you to capture and share what urban means to you, whether it’s morning, noon or night.

The contest invites the entrant to submit original photos capturing what the entrant considers to be the essence of â€œcities at workâ€ at any time of day, be it poignant, inspiring, quirky or amusing.

You may enter one image for each hour of the day up to 24 images in total per person.

For every entry in the Urban Photographer of the Year Competition, CBRE will make a donation to leading children’s development charity, Plan International, supporting their commitment to building advantage in our communities.

There is no entry fee.
