Organised by Design Enterprise Skillnet, Design Leaders Conference is a one-day event to recharge design and agency owners, creative directors, and anyone interested in leading a design team or running a successful creative studio.

Aimed at both creative directors and creative agency owners, attendees will come away re-invigorated and inspired, with actionable insights to bring back to your studio.

The Conference takes a deep dive into topics that pose the greatest challenges for designers and creative business owners, directors, partners and managers who lead design teams and run successful studios. Itâ€™s been described by attendees as an unmissable opportunity to build your network, share ideas and learn up to date industry trends and best practice.

Keynote sessions feature executive speakers from the US, Canada and Europe discussing everything from the challenges and opportunities of defining and honing leadership style, to aligning talent and culture in dynamic design and creative environments with a profitable business strategy.
