The Transversalidades 2025 Photo Contest, organized by the Centro de Estudos Ibéricos (CEI) in Guarda, Portugal, is an international photography competition designed to highlight the richness and diversity of territories, societies, and cultures across the globe. By focusing on themes such as natural heritage, urbanization, rural life, and cultural diversity, the contest seeks to foster a deeper understanding of the interconnectedness of human and environmental landscapes. Participants are invited to submit a portfolio of six photographs, each reflecting one of the four thematic categories: Landscapes, Biodiversity, and Natural Heritage; Rural Areas, Agriculture, and Settlement; The City and the Urbanization Process; and Culture and Society, with an emphasis on cultural diversity and social inclusion. This structure encourages photographers to explore and document the multifaceted relationships between people and their environments.

The competition is not only a platform for artistic expression but also a means to promote inclusion, cooperation, and sustainable development through the lens of photography. By emphasizing the aesthetic, documentary, and pedagogical value of images, the contest aims to inspire dialogue and awareness about global challenges such as environmental conservation, urbanization, and cultural preservation. The CEI, as the organizing body, is committed to using the winning photographs in publications, exhibitions, and promotional materials, ensuring that the work of participants reaches a wide audience. This approach not only amplifies the impact of the contest but also provides photographers with a unique opportunity to contribute to meaningful global conversations.

The Transversalidades 2025 Photo Contest stands out for its inclusivity and accessibility, welcoming submissions from photographers of all nationalities and professional backgrounds. Whether amateur or professional, participants are encouraged to bring their unique perspectives to the competition, enriching the collective understanding of the world's diverse landscapes and cultures. By offering no entry fee and providing substantial cash prizes, including awards for Portuguese and PALOP (Portuguese-speaking African countries) participants, the contest underscores its commitment to fostering global participation and cultural exchange. This combination of artistic freedom, thematic depth, and international reach makes the Transversalidades 2025 Photo Contest a highly anticipated event in the global photography community.

There is no entry fee.

Eligibility
