UX London 2018 will be held on 23-25 May bringing together the world's leading design experts and practitioners.

Join for a programme of inspirational talks and hands-on workshops. Spend the mornings gaining unique insights from influential speakers. In the afternoon, roll up your sleeves and participate in the workshop of your choice. You'll head home with new ideas and practical skills that you can apply straight away.

Moreover, this year they're turning ten, and there will be some extra special celebrations.
